Cermak Points To Urgent Need For U. S. Loans

Britten Sees Need for Troops if Aid is Not Given

SENATE VOTE NEAR

Votes Preference to Vets Under Job Relief Bill

Washington—(P)—A provision that preference be given to ex-service men with dependents in employing labor on projects contemplated in the Democratic unemployment relief bill was adopted today by the senate.

In speedy fashion and without a dissenting voice, the senate agreed to the amendment proposed by Senator Tydings (D., Md.) as it pushed ahead toward a vote on the $2,000,000 measure.

Washington—(P)—Mayor Anton Cermak told the house banking committee today that unless federal relief is forthcoming "I am unable to say what will happen in Chicago after Aug. 1."

Cermak appeared in behalf of an amendment to the $300,000,000 Wagner relief bill which would permit loans to municipalities for meeting their expenses.

He was accompanied by a group of Chicago officials and virtually the entire Illinois congressional delegation, including Senator Lewis.

Just before he began to testify, Representative Britten (R., Ill.) said:

"Unless you gentlemen provide for or relief of the city of Chicago within the next six months you will be sending federal troops to Chicago."

Cermak dismissed the court contest over Chicago tax assessments, explaining that pending a final decision, possible from the United States Supreme court, it was impossible to collect sufficient funds to run the city government.

"We ask you to amend these relief bills so that the Reconstruction Finance corporation may loan money to municipalities," Cermak said. "We raised $10,000,000 from the citizens to support our relief stations, and then sold $12,000,000 in bonds."

"These funds ran out June 1.

Then more than $5,000,000 of additional bonds were sold. This is sufficient to last until Aug. 1. I don't know what we'll do then."

"We now owe $34 months salary to all city employees. We owe five months salary to the school teachers, amounting to $17,000,000 this year."

"We have reduced our budget from $167,000,000 to $125,000,000. We have had less crime in the last year than we have had in the last ten and are proud of it."

"But if our relief stations close Aug. 1, just what will happen, gentlemen? I am unable to say to you."

The house virtually had removed the one other substantial barrier to adjourn through adoption late yesterday of a modified furlough plan to effect the federal payroll economy in the bill slashing government expenditures. Acceptance of the house action by the senate was certain today.

That step alone was required to send the national economy bill to President Hoover for signature. The bill is not all that he asked for, especially in the extent of power granted the executive to reorganize and reduce bureaus and agencies of the executive establishment, but it will reduce expenditures probably in sufficient amount to stay within the revenue expected from the new tax law whose rates went into effect today. The items on which calculation was possible will save from $150,000,000 to $175,000,000.

In approving the furlough plan, compelling most federal employees to take a month's leave without pay this year, the house added a scale of pay reductions for employees whose working time could not be reduced. The cuts ranged from 8 1/3 per cent for salaries of $1,000 to $10,000 up to 15 per cent on sums between $15,000 and $20,000, and 20 per cent on salaries above that mark. The furlough plan also was made to except employees making $1,000 or less.

Asks Protection For Americans in Chilean District

U. S. Envoy Told Anti-foreign Agitation Endangers Alien Lives

Santiago, Chile—(P)—Fear that American lives and property in Chile might be endangered by anti-foreign reaction to the Davila junta was indicated today.

United States ambassador William S. Culbertson last night formally requested the government to protect American lives and property at Rancagua, near where the mines are located.

The ambassador said the copper company had informed him there had been anti-foreign agitation there and trouble in the streets which it was feared might spread to the mines. He indicated he believed the police forces are not able to cope with disorder if it broke out.

His request was made in a note sent to the ministers of interior and foreign affairs. It was understood the government was sympathetic toward the request and that troops would be sent to Rancagua immediately.

Although martial law was proclaimed by the new government last night, because it was explained, "anarchy created by the former government" was exercising an "unsettling influence" Santiago was so quiet that Davila himself retired early.

The Braden mines at Teniente, near Rancagua, are owned by the Guggenheim interests and are valued at $100,000,000. Teniente is 50 miles south of Santiago. Many Americans, with their families, live there.

The junta said a "ferment of anarchy" created by the former short-lived government of Col. Marmaduke Grove and his junta "continues to exercise an unsettling influence."

Amelia Honored At White House

President to Present Her With National Geographic Medal

Washington—(P)—The path of a famous fad today led Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam to the White House.

Official Washington, one sector of which just a year ago was censoring her for "carelessness and bad judgment" in a minor crash in Texas, offered personal acclaim and honors for her solo flight over the north Atlantic.

President Hoover was first among the greeters—receiving her immediately upon arrival in Washington by air. Tonight, he will present her a special gold medal of the National Geographic society, the first ever voted to a woman.

Mrs. Putnam faced a busy afternoon, a luncheon with the society's board of trustees being followed on the program by presentation to Vice President Curtis and the senate, then to the house of representatives, with subsequent appointments with Secretary of Navy Adams, Secretary of War Hurley, and Secretary of Commerce Lamont.

She will receive the sixteenth medal voted by the National Geographic society for unusual geographic achievements and the second of these to be presented by President Hoover. Just two years and one day ago, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, fresh from his conquest of the South Pole, stood in the presence of his Hardy Antarctic band and received a similar token from the hands of the president.

Later, when congressional plans now half completed are carried through, she will receive from the government itself a medal recognizing her extraordinary feat.

Opposition to Otis and Lanphear was headed by Councilman E. R. Branigan, whose appeal from a conviction and six months' jail sentence on a charge of criminally libeling Circuit Judge George Grimm is pending before the state supreme court.

Otis, who will serve as city manager until his successor is chosen, accused his opponents with "trumping up" eight charges in a "conspiracy" to oust him and other city employees.

The charges against Otis included tactlessness, unpopularity, and lack of harmony with the majority of the city council. T. D. Corcoran, president, and Councilman R. L. Dowd, both elected on the Branigan slate this spring, favored removal of the city manager.

In his plea for support from the council, Otis charged Branigan forced the resignation of Lanphear because he had been arrested on orders from the former police chief.

SOCIALIST CANDIDATE Racine—(P)—O. J. Bourne, former Manitowoc, Wis., editor, was chosen as the Socialist candidate for congress from the First district at a meeting of the party organization here last night. He is secretary of the Racine Socialist party.

Europe Looks For Change in Debts Policy

Gibson Tells French U. S. Won't Act Unless Arms Costs are Cut

HINT CANCELLATION

Washington Denies Official Agreement to Reopen Old Question

Lausanne, Switzerland—(P)—Hugh S. Gibson, head of the American delegation to the disarmament conference, hurried up from Geneva this afternoon and talked for half an hour with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John Simon, the British foreign minister.

He came with Norman H. Davis, another member of the American delegation, at a time when reports were circulating through Lausanne that the United States was ready to participate in cancellation of the war debts if Europe would cut down its outlay for armaments.

When they started back for Geneva with Sir John, Mr. Davis said the talk with the British representatives had not gone into the debts issue and his visit with Mr. Gibson "does not mean that we have entered the financial field."

But there presence here encouraged speculation, particularly in view of a midnight conference last night at Morges attended by Mr. Gibson, Premier Herriot of France, and Joseph Paul-Boncour, Mr. Herriot's cabinet associate.

At that meeting Mr. Gibson told the Premier America could not be expected to listen to any request for debt cancellation while Europe went on spending money for arms every year to meet the service on the debts.

Reports of the conference here had it that Mr. Gibson had agreed to cancellation if the arms budgets junta was indicated today.

DENIAL AT WASHINGTON

Washington—(P)—Emphatic denial was made by the state department today of reports in Lausanne that the United States had officially agreed to reopen the question of European war debts conditional on disarmament at Geneva.

Negotiations continued between Secretary Stimson, the White House and the American delegation at the Geneva conference. But the secretary of state and his assistants were still concerning their progress.

Opposes "Easy Credit" For American Farmer

Milwaukee—(P)—A prediction that all farmers' cooperatives will be destroyed if the government continues its policy of "easy credit" was made by A. J. Glover, Fort Atkinson, editor of Hoard's Dairyman, at the Central Retail Feed association's annual convention which closes today.

Too much help from the government, Glover said, has created indifference and carelessness on the part of the farmers. He suggested the government should offer more advice and less financial help.

"The depression," he said, "will awaken the farmer to his failings as a marketer and will make him understand that agriculture depends on marketing as well as producing. Unless the people on the land receive a just share of the nation's income the welfare of the country is not secure."

S. E. St. John of Minneapolis was elected president of the association at a business session last night.

Al Smith Witness For Defense in Bank Probe in New York

New York—(P)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, called as a defense witness today at the trial of Isidore J. Kresel, counsel for the closed Bank of United States, on a charge of perjury, testified that Kresel's reputation was "of the very best." The former governor said he had known Kresel since 1904 as a personal friend and that he had frequent contact with him when Kresel was an assistant district attorney.

Referring to the trial of Joseph A. Broderick, at which the former governor had testified as a character witness and answered several questions without identifying himself, Assistant District Attorney James G. Wallace suggested that the witness give his name.

Former Governor Smith said he had been 38 years a resident of New York, a member of the assembly 12 years, sheriff of New York two years and president of the board of aldermen for one year, in addition to holding the governorship for eight years.

After leaving the stand Smith said he would leave for Chicago today, but declined to discuss any phase of the Democratic national convention.

Monroe Doctrine For Asia Mapped By Jap Diplomat

Sees No Danger of War if U. S. Doesn't Interfere in Orient

Tokio—(P)—Viscount Kikujiro Ishii, former ambassador to the United States, enunciated a sort of Monroe doctrine for Asia tonight at a dinner for Joseph C. Grew, the new United States ambassador to Japan.

Giving an address of welcome to Mr. Grew before the American-Japan society, the Japanese spokesman asserted that grave situation would be created if the United States ever attempted to dominate the Asiatic continent.

Mr. Grew, in his first speech as ambassador, told the audience, which was composed of distinguished Japanese leaders, that America always and everywhere will uphold the structure of international peace.

Negotiations continued between Secretary Stimson, the White House and the American delegation at the Geneva conference. But the secretary of state and his assistants were still concerning their progress.

Two Contingencies

"First," Mr. Ishii outlined, "if Japan were foolish enough to attempt to unduly interfere in the western hemisphere—then war would be inevitable."

"Second, if America attempted to dominate Asia."

"But I am convinced," he went on, "that America's concern in the orient is only the maintenance of peace in respect to her treaties. Heretofore the American intervention alluded to above is as highly improbable as Japanese interference in the western hemisphere."

M. Ishii predicated his references to conflict upon this assertion:

"A grave situation would be created in the United States ever attempted to dominate the Asiatic continent and prevented Japan from her Pacific and natural expansion in this part of the world."

He added that he believed such an attempt was highly improbable.

"The vast majority of intelligent Americans and Japanese," M. Ishii concluded, "know perfectly well the boundaries of their respective spheres of activity beyond which common sense forbids seeking for futile and vain purposes. President Roosevelt denounced as fantastic an American attempt to interfere with Japanese expansion in Korea and Manchuria."

Mr. Grew's address was entirely friendly in tone but insisted that American interest was in a durable peace.

Altogether these levies are to produce $65,000,000 of the new tax law's $1,125,000,000 expected revenue during the fiscal year which begins July 1. The income and corporation taxes are in effect for the entire current calendar year, that is since last Jan. 1. A tax on the use of boats will go into effect in July.

New postage rates, beginning with 3 cents for each first class letter, will not go into force until July 6.

Admission tickets to theatres and all entertainments are now subject to the new tax, which begins at 10 per cent on all those above 40 cents.

A 3 per cent charge on the domestic and commercial electric light bill will be levied for one-third of this month to obviate meter readings today.

In some cases these will not filter down to the general public immediately as they are charged upon the sales of manufacturers or importers to retailers, and therefore stocks on hand today remained clear of tax. Many charges, however, became directly effective on the consumer at the stroke of midnight.

Long distance calls, telegrams, cable and radio messages are now subject to various charges, generally ranging up from 10 cents. The 2 cents tax on bank checks is in force, exempting only receipts forms used by some institutions now in place of counter checks. So are a 10 per cent charge on rental of safe deposit boxes, and stamp taxes on security issues, transfers and conveyances.

Supreme Court Upholds Berg In Damage Suit

Finding of Municipal Judge in $10,000 Action is Affirmed

Action of Judge Theodore Berg of municipal court dismissing the $10,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Irma Schmaling, town of Center, in May 1931, against the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, was upheld by the state supreme court in an opinion handed down late yesterday afternoon.

Schmaling sought this amount for the death of her husband, Edward Schmaling, in July, 1930. He was electrocuted when struck by a power line wire carrying 33,000 volts. The lower court found that Schmaling was guilty of contributory negligence.

Schmaling and Frank Luedke, another Center farmer, were standing on the highway about 10:30 on the night of the accident. Three power poles had been blown down by a storm and lay across the road, blocking traffic. Several motorists attempted to get by through the ditch and became mired. When a fourth pole fell, Luedke was instantly killed and Schmaling suffered burns from which he died the next morning.

It was charged by the plaintiff that the power company was negligent because the first pole that fell had been damaged in an accident several months previous and had not been repaired. The weakened pole, it was charged, caused the other poles to fall. The power company denied liability and charged Schmaling with contributory negligence.

Two Cases Reversed

Two other cases appealed from municipal court here were reversed. In one the high court reversed the judgment of Judge Theodore Berg granting mortgage foreclosure to Henry Hoks, executor of the will of Mrs. John Wollenberg.

John Wollenberg, the woman's husband, borrowed $3,000 from his wife and gave a mortgage as security. Before Mrs. Wollenberg's death, Wollenberg claimed she gave him a release of the mortgage, which the high court found legal. Judge Berg had held the release not valid in which case the mortgage would have been foreclosed, the property gone to Mrs. Wollenberg's estate which was left to two nephews.

The supreme court also held that Fred Mueller, town of Center, a former assemblyman, was not guilty of criminal slander against William Callebe, member of the town board, and reversed a municipal court jury finding. The remarks were alleged to have been made over a $2 tax at a town board meeting.

The court also reversed the judgment of $5,576.32 awarded to Myrtle Richards Price against the Interstate Business Men's Association of Des Moines for the death of her husband, Clinton G. Price, district attorney of Juneau county who was shot mysteriously in April, 1930.

Price was slain at his home at Mauston. His assailant was never apprehended. Lyle T. Wright, former sheriff of Juneau county was charged with the slaying but a jury acquitted him.

The association with which Price was insured and which appealed the lower court verdict claimed that his death was not covered by the terms of his policy.

The trial court held the association liable on the ground that it was unknown whether the unidentified assailant intentionally killed the district attorney.

Gladioli Are Ideal For Flower Shows

Adequate Plant Food Is Necessary to Obtain Best Blossoms

Gladioli are the show flowers of late summer. To grow really fine specimens requires little extra care. It is so easy to succeed with gladioli that even experienced gardeners are likely to neglect them. An important part of the treatment for maximum results is to supply adequate plant food.

Choose a well drained soil and prepare it to a depth of at least ten inches. Apply a complete plantfood in the trench into which the bulbs are to be set at the rate of two pounds per one hundred feet of row. Mix the plant food thoroughly with the soil in the trench. Always use good bulbs. Plant the bulbs four to seven inches deep, the deeper planting being made on sandy soils. Deeper plantings bloom later than shallower planting, but are not so susceptible to damage during dry periods.

In order to obtain a succession of bloom make plantings at two intervals from early May to July first.

When the plants reach a height of six inches, apply plantfood at the rate of two pounds per hundred feet of row on both sides of the row prior to a necessary cultivation.

When cutting the flower spikes from the gladiolus, do not remove more of the foliage than is absolutely necessary, since the foliage is necessary to manufacture foods which go to build next year's bulbs.

In the fall dig the corms before they freeze. Clean and dry them in the open air and store at a temperature of about 40 degrees F. In handling avoid bruising the bulbs.

Vote Zoning in State is Legal Court Decides

Reapportionment Act Held Valid by Highest Wisconsin Tribunal

Madison—(AP)—With the threat of unconstitutionality removed by the state supreme court, the new legislative reapportionment act will prevail and elections to the senate and assembly will occur this year within redistricted lines.

To most of the state the reapportionment made little difference for there was no change in the existing representation. The counties affected are chiefly those whose population increased in the 1930 census. They were given no additional legislators but their district lines were changed to equalize the population shift within their own territories.

The ruling of constitutionality was handed down in a decision written by Justice John D. Wickham setting aside the plea of District Attorney George A. Bowman of Milwaukee-co., that the more populous centers had illegally been deprived of increased representation to which they were entitled.

A reapportionment suggested by Bowman, which would have given a half dozen or more of the bigger counties about 9 more legislators than they now have was described by the court as having constitutional objections in itself.

The high court held that because of certain restrictions, such as that against splitting up counties to make one district and because of the geography and population of all counties taken as a whole the legislature had done a fair job except in three instances.

Grant-co might have been reduced from two assemblies to one, Door and Kewaunee-co might have been joined into one assembly district and the saving allotted to Madison and Milwaukee, the court said.

It found, however, that these inequalities were not evidence of ulterior motive on the part of the legislature and set down the precedent that a reapportionment had to be secured which could pass both houses, one of which is predominantly rural.

Notices of the September primary will be sent out by the secretary of state about July 6, which is 16 days earlier than was originally planned.

Street Widening Objections Heard

Public Hearing Conducted Monday Afternoon At City Hall

Objection to the widening of Superior-st at this particular time was voiced at a public hearing on the assessment of benefits and damages for the project at city hall Monday afternoon.

William Neils, Antone Stadler, and representatives of the Aid Association of Lutherans, the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company, and the Wissmann Furniture Co. pointed out that while they approved plans for widening the street, they felt conditions did not warrant the improvement at this time. H. L. Davis, representing the Appleton Post-Crescent, felt that it would be advisable to have the work done now and spread payment of it over a period of five years.

The assessment for the widening range from $1.30 to $1.90 a foot, dependent upon the width.

A hearing also was held on the assessment of benefits and damages for a sewer on Erb-st and a water main on Bennett-st. The Erb-st assessment is 75 cents a foot, and the Bennett-st assessment 60 cents a foot.

Start Testimony In Damage Suit

Parents of Ervin Janssen Tell of Changes in Boy's Health

Testimony was started Monday afternoon in the $25,000 damage suit of Herman Janssen, Combined Locks, against J. A. Panneck, Appleton chiropractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Janssen both have been on the stand testifying about the physical condition of their 11-year-old son, Erwin, at the time he started taking treatments from Panneck. They traced his condition from then to the present time.

The child was taken ill with spinal meningitis when five years old. The illness left him slow mentally. The parents allege that after the chiropractic treatments were started the child's health gradually failed, until today the child cannot walk, is blind, and otherwise physically incapacitated. Panneck denies any responsibility for the child's condition.

Reveal Traces of Ancient U. S. Race

"Cud Chewers" Lived in Caves of Mountains of Southwest Texas

Washington—(AP)—Discovery of a strange race of American cave men who "chewed cuds" was announced today by a Smithsonian institution expedition just back from Texas.

These vanished Americans, who lived in caves of the mountains of southwest Texas previously were unknown to science. They form another link in the chain of human history in North America that scientists gradually are forging.

The "cuds" these people chewed were leaves of variety of cactus, said Frank M. Setzler, leader of the expedition. They chewed the leaves until all the juice was extracted, as modern Americans chew gum. He found a large accumulation of discarded half-chewed "cuds," with human bones and utensils.

The ancient cave-men apparently lived before the days of the white explorers, but their exact date is uncertain. There are some indications that they are related to the old "masket-maker" people who lived in the southwest 2,000 years ago, and who are next to the oldest known inhabitants of North America.

The "cud chewers" used cactus fibers for baskets, sandals, ropes and ate deer, bear, rabbits, birds and the meat of the "corn-cob" cactus along with their cactus juice. They were civilized enough to make arrows.

For some strange reason the cud-chewers had the habit of burying one small child, never more than two years old, in the center of each cave in which they lived. Setzler found such a child-burial in each of the seven caves he explored. No adult skeletons were found. The cud-chewer civilization extended over a region from El Paso east to the Pecos river and from the Rio Grande north to the neighborhood of Alpine, Texas, and possibly further, said Setzler.

Warmer Weather on Menu for Wednesday

Fair weather tonight with increasing cloudiness tomorrow, and another rise in temperature in the central and southern portions of Wisconsin, is the weatherman's forecast for the next 24 hours. Similar predictions have been made throughout most of the middle west.

The temperature started rising in the western states today. Winds are shifting in the west and southwest, a good indication that warmer weather is on the way.

At 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, the mercury registered 64 degrees above zero, and at noon it registered 83 degrees.

The high court held that because of certain restrictions, such as that against splitting up counties to make one district and because of the geography and population of all counties taken as a whole the legislature had done a fair job except in three instances.

Grant-co might have been reduced from two assemblies to one, Door and Kewaunee-co might have been joined into one assembly district and the saving allotted to Madison and Milwaukee, the court said.

It found, however, that these inequalities were not evidence of ulterior motive on the part of the legislature and set down the precedent that a reapportionment had to be secured which could pass both houses, one of which is predominantly rural.

Notices of the September primary will be sent out by the secretary of state about July 6, which is 16 days earlier than was originally planned.

Ward Opposes Ball Grounds In Erb Park

Voters' Club Against Proposal to Erect Permanent Bleachers There

An expression of uncompromising opposition to the erection of a stadium or permanent bleachers in Erb park and against the use of Erb park for any form of professional or semi-professional athletics was voiced at a meeting of the Sixth Ward Voters club last night with the unanimous adoption of a resolution proposed by Prof. A. L. Franzke. The meeting was held at Roosevelt Junior high school and was attended by 61 club members.

What was expected to be a heated debate on proposed establishment of an athletic field in the park between Professor Franzke and Clarence Baetz, came to an abrupt end with the unanimous adoption of the resolution. There were no arguments for or against establishment of the field, other than those presented in talks by Mr. Baetz and Mr. Franzke.

Claiming that the present poor relief program of the city is too much like a "dole" system, Phillip Vogt, Sixth ward alderman in a brief talk, asked the club to cooperate with the common council in formulating a system whereby the recipients of public relief funds will be put to work to earn poor aid.

Describes Convention C. C. Nelson, Appleton, delegate to the national Republican convention at Chicago last week, sketched the procedure of the convention. He exhibited various badges and insignia worn by delegates, and various convention booklets and other literature. He said people in Appleton who listened to the convention proceedings over the radio probably heard much more than the delegates at the Chicago stadium, because of the continuous expressions of boisterous enthusiasm during the convention.

"Establishment of an athletic field in Erb park would tend to destroy the primary functions of a city park, first of which is recreation, and second public amusement," Mr. Franzke declared. "The public amusement side of the question is being over-emphasized throughout the country, with the result that only a few get their exercise while thousands look on."

Warning against over-energetic baseball promoters, the speaker pointed to the Green Bay Packers world champions of professional football. He said the Packer team was just a little "amateur" organization when it was started, but today thousands of people jam the stadium at Green Bay whenever the Packers are playing.

Fear Professionalism

"The advocates and supporters of the athlete field movement may tell you that only amateur leagues will utilize the diamonds in the park but they made their mistake when they said that occasionally the hat may be passed to defray some of the expenses. As soon as that takes place, such leagues already would be in the semi-professional class and when that takes place how are you going to drive them from the field or stop them from further commercializing of public amusement?"

Mr. Franzke said such league teams would immediately take a monopoly on an athletic field, especially on Saturdays and Sundays, the only two days in which most residents of the city are able to seek recreation. Big league baseball games in the park, with crowds yelling and razzing players and umpires, and automobile horns blowing would be a public nuisance, and with hundreds of cars jamming every roadway and available spot, the park would be unsafe for the children, he said.

Scoring an editorial which appeared recently in an Appleton newspaper, Mr. Franzke said he was afraid to admit that one of the reasons residents are opposed to such a movement is because it would destroy their home and property values. Branding the editorial a "nasty crack," the speaker said it was time that people in the Sixth ward serve notice that the park is no longer a cow pasture.

Would Preserve Beauty

"Try to build a stadium and athletic field in Pierce park and see what would happen. The majority of the people in the Sixth ward have come to realize the tremendous possibilities and the existing beauties of Erb park, and it is time they went out and told the entire city that it is no longer located out in the sticks but in the center of a beautiful, fast growing residential section."

The speaker climaxed his arguments with the presentation of the resolution. The club also unanimously adopted another resolution presented by Mr. Franzke as follows: "It is hereby moved that our president, Marshall Graff, appoint a committee of five to be known as the Erb park committee, whose function is shall be to act as the official intermediary between the Sixth Ward Voters club and the park board of Appleton."

Another resolution advocating the immediate preparation of complete plans for improvement of Erb park also was adopted.

Wants More Athletics

Pointing to Menonice park, Oshkosh, where three or four baseball and softball games are going on every Sunday afternoon, Mr. Baetz said it was time similar provisions were made in Appleton. He said Appleton is without adequate softball and baseball diamonds, and that it is time "we step on the toes of the city park board."

"School grounds are poor places for softball diamonds, and in most instances they aren't large enough for the players."

He said he believed the organization of amateur athletic leagues would give young folks a chance to give vent to their spirits.

"Establishment of an athletic field in the park would give fathers the opportunity of playing ball with their sons, thus establishing a real father and son spirit," he said. "They could attend games together on Saturday or Sunday afternoons."

He said Appleton is one of only a few cities in the Fox river valley which is without adequate baseball diamonds. He said many smaller cities and villages in the valley have better fields and are more baseball-minded than Appleton.

An effort to place a resident of the Sixth ward on the park board was made in the unanimous adoption of a resolution presented by Mr. Baetz and Willis Elsner.

The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas the Sixth ward has never had any representation on the city park board, and

"Whereas a vacancy occurs this fall, and this ward being sincerely interested in development of its park, and this section of the city is proof by having shown more growth than any ward for the past two years,

"Therefore be it resolved by the club in regular meeting on June 20, that we respectfully request his honor, John Goodland, Jr., mayor of Appleton, that he appoint to fill said vacancy a resident of the Sixth ward, and that the mayor consult with the executive committee of the Sixth Ward Voters club through our president to assist and suggest in making this appointment."

Following is the resolution unanimously adopted at the close of Mr. Franzke's address:

"Be it resolved, that, the Sixth Ward Voters club hereby goes on record in an expression of uncompromising opposition to the erection of a stadium or permanent bleachers in Erb park and against the use of Erb park for any form of professional or semi-professional athletics.

"Be it resolved further, that, a copy of this resolution be sent to the chairman of the park board, and to the aldermen of the Sixth ward."

Do you inhale? This simple question caught the cigarette trade by surprise! "Why bring that up?" they asked. "Why don't you let well-enough alone?"

But "well-enough" is not enough for Lucky Strike! The subject of inhaling is vitally important... for every smoker inhales knowingly or unknowingly. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette!

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike dares to raise this vital question... because Luckies' famous purifying process removes certain impurities concealed in every tobacco leaf! Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes!

THE TAXPAYERS ALLIANCE

If there is to be any relief from the constantly increasing burden of government cost, the relief must come from the concerted action of those who in the last analysis pay the cost of government—the common man. Just so long as he remains apathetic and is willing to have government administered by politicians, just so long can he expect to find government
digging deeper into his income to finance its extravagances and waste. Only when he wakes up to the fact that the whole
bill is coming out of his own pocket will
he find relief from his load.

One of the chief difficulties in interesting the common man in his government
has been the complexity of its problems,
and these problems are made to appear
more complex by politicians to discourage such interest as might be taken in them.
The result has been that the ordinary man in the street has a feeling that government is beyond him.

The Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, in its endeavor to discuss the problems of government in language that the ordinary citizen can understand, is performing a noble service and is deserving of the support of every taxpayer interested in doing something about reducing his tax bill. The alliance believes that the remedy for misgovernment is an enlightened
citizenry, capable of intelligently discussing its problems and applying such remedies as the situation seems to warrant.
It believes further that the tax situation
in Wisconsin has reached a stage
that requires immediate and earnest attention if whosoever refuses to pay taxes
are not to result.

Citizens of Outagamie county who are honestly interested in their state government, regardless of their political affiliations and prejudices, are invited to attend the massmeeting in Lawrence Memorial Chapel Wednesday evening when it is purposed to organize a county unit of the state alliance. Edward L. Kelley, until recently a member of the Wisconsin
Tax commission, now executive director of the alliance, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Kelley, as a member of the tax commission, has had an extraordinary opportunity to become conversant with taxes and taxation principles as they are applied in Wisconsin, and he is qualified
by experience to tell the story in language that every man will understand. This is an opportunity that every taxpayer should take to inform himself about the problem which (today is commanding
more attention than any other in Wisconsin.

THE CASE OF CHILE

A man buys a lot and gives a worthless check for it. He defrauds a lumber company out of material and working men out of their wages in order to construct a building, either because he desires it or that it may be useful to him.
He repudiates all debts, refuses to recognize a single obligation.

Quite likely he should be sent to the psychopathic ward, or, if sane, to jail.

The government and people of Chile
wanted fine things. They wanted smooth roads built back into the mountains. So they borrowed money from America.

They wanted impressive customhouses,
beautiful public buildings, greatly enlarged harbors and an extensive school system. So they borrowed the money from America.

They wanted new postoffices, colleges,
universities. They even wanted battleships and airplanes. So they borrowed the money from America.

This money went to their people for labor and materials and helped enrich the land.

Their recent conduct presents another instance where democracy has broken down, where the people have demonstrated their unfitness to govern. As soon as they get in a tight place—and the rest of the world is in a tight place—they can think of nothing except to take over
everyone else's property for the state,
that is themselves, and have the state,
again themselves, pay nothing.

They have followed the policy of constantly issuing bonds, often borrowing
money with which to appease or satisfy the people instead of explaining the weakness of that policy, and then when they found themselves up against the hardship a continual borrowing policy is sure to impose, they have pursued an unmanly policy, as honest and highminded
as that of the man of whom we spoke in the opening paragraph.

The fact that Chile or any other country
adopts a socialist or communistic or what-have-you government is no direct affair of ours. But Chile has confiscated not only the property of Chileans but the property of Americans. If it does not pay interest on its loans, and finally liquidate the loans, there is removed a great many millions of dollars upon which the people of the United States have actually been paying income taxes to both their federal and state governments,

as well as using the balance of the income
for the purpose of living or building up their own community.

Thus are the national resources of this country depleted by the action of irresponsible parties in a tumultuous land to our south.

FEDERAL MONEY TO CITIES

Chicago shows a vital interest in the bill introduced by Senator Wagner of New York, and which has passed the Senate, authorizing the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to loan moneys to municipalities, and is prepared to ask for about $30 million, some 60 per cent of which is to cover "unpaid public employes
and bonds due for local improvements."

The per capita indebtedness of Chigo is not high. Its note for $30 million is good. But congress will make a mistake
if, when it authorizes such loans, it does not attach conditions compelling such a change in the laws or practices of a state like Illinois that will avoid a recurrence of the chaos into which Big Bill
The Builder has thrown America's second city and the burden under which Mr. Cermak has manfully staggered since he took office.

We gather from press dispatches that a substantial part of the difficulty in Chicago is its inability to collect assessed taxes. The inability of the taxpayer to pay is not involved. He is fighting the city because of the way he was robbed,
because of the corruption and double dealing that took place under a previous administration. It seems that taxpayers start an action to restrain the collection of
a tax and are given a temporary injunction.
That holds the city off and the crowded condition of the court calendars prevents a hearing and appeal short of several years.

Congress should not permit loans of this kind unless the laws of a commonwealth are changed to prevent such muddles.

A statute of Wisconsin might serve as an example. Our law provides that "whenever any action is commenced . . . to restrain the issuing of any tax certificate or to set aside any tax for any error or defect . . . within twenty days
after commencement of such action the plaintiff . . . shall pay to the officer entitled to receive the same, the amount of taxes, interest and charges . . . as a condition of maintaining said action." A court will not listen to a man's complaint
until he shows he had already paid the tax.

The state may or may not be right in the particular assessment. But the state must live. Men and women will wither away and die. But the state must go on like the rivers, forever. The tax may be a hardship or a wrong upon some individual,
and in exceptional cases, may bankrupt him.
But the state must not, under any circumstances, permit itself to become financially embarrassed—nor otherwise hazard its existence.

This superiority of the government
over the individual called sovereignty
necessitates, even compels, preferences
that cannot be given as between other persons. Taxes must be paid. If the courts determine that the tax was improperly collected, they order the government to repay it, which gives the authorities the opportunity of including the amount to be repaid in the budget and make the necessary and proper assessment therefor.

Laws should not exist that permit a strike, however just as to the particular point involved, of the taxpayer against the government.

That's what they've had in Chicago.

BOVINE TUBERCULOSIS DECREASES

Note should be made of the rapid progress that is being made toward the eradication of bovine tuberculosis.

Since 1922 when four per cent of all the cattle in the United States were tu-
berculous, the Department of Agriculture has announced a reduction to 1.4.

On July first, 1923 but seventeen counties within four states were reported as
tuberculosis-free. Now the records show
that 1,422 counties, or 46.3 per cent of the total number in the country, are practically free of this disease. Of equal
interest is the fact that all of the counties in each of seven states come within
this classification. These states are Maine,
North Carolina, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan,
Wisconsin and Idaho. Three other states,
North Dakota, Nevada and Utah, are al-
most tuberculosis-free and expect to reach
the past week as the guest of Miss Mabel Pratt.

These results have been possible only
through favorable public opinion and the
laudable cooperation of farmers and herd
owners with state and national authorities. Instances of resistance to this
forward step have been few and isolated,
the most notable being the rebellion
among Iowa farmers against the provisions of that state's tuberculin-test law.

While the report shows there still remain large areas where the disease is a menace to public health, these districts
will rapidly be brought under control,
if the present rate of progress is maintained.

Victoria, B. C., will build a 42-foot dam to increase its Sooke Lake reservoir capacity to 7,200,000 gallons, twice the present capacity.

A new alloy, composed of nickel, steel, and aluminum, has been developed in Japan for strong magnetic characteristics.

California plum packers have voluntarily reduced the 1932 pack 20 per cent according to the state agricultural department.

WE SHOULD like to write a little ditty
about the Weatherman and what a swell
guy he is . . . all about how he's saved
the rain for the night time when it bothers the fewest people and reserved the sunshine for the daytime when it does the most good and keeps people the happiest . . . but sure as we did it, he'd cut loose with a flock of showers
and hailstones and grey skies, just to show us
what he thinks about our opinions . . .

Having started an agitation to keep the kids
off the streets and safe from getting their darling little necks all broken by motorists, we should like to begin one to get a traffic light
in operation (at least for the weekends) at the intersections of Memorial Drive and Prospect Avenue. The safest way to cross the intersection
when the traffic is heavy is to get a running start, spread out the fenders and sail over.

Sure, there's an arterial sign there, but a few can't wait FOREVER.

And the weeds on the new post office lawn continue to grow. Pretty soon you won't be able to see the post office.

At least it'll be nice and shady around there.

The locust plagues (due to assume dangerous proportions this year) are merely due to grasshoppers which have gone mob-crazy. So a scientist has discovered in some interesting experiments.

The grasshopper-locust plague demands attention, of course, and hourly we expect to hear that congress has passed a law forbidding grasshoppers to get together and appropriating a million dollars to enforce the law.

The Chicago gangsters are busy at bumping
each other off again, now that the Republicans have gone home. Maybe the lads are celebrating the Republican prohibition plank. However, it was hardly considerate of them to wait until everyone went home before they started their fireworks. After all, what kind of an impression did the delegates go away with? Just the picture of a small and very quiet town with big buildings and no excitement. But maybe they'll do better by the Democrats.

Breaks in the monotony of a Monday morning: the auto horn which plays "How Dry I Am" . . . the young man who was striding down College Avenue wearing nothing except
a coat of tan, a backless bathing suit, a pair
of linen knickers and some basketball shoes.

Tonight the Schmeling-Sharkey fight. Sounds like a good fist-pounding is in store for a couple of big fellows. Also another kind of pounding in store for the promoters. (The pounding
of the wolf on the door.)

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FREEDOM

Boy, if you would drop to sleep
Undisturbed, then you must keep Ear alert, in times of choice.
For that whispering inner voice
Pleading with you to be true
To the finer side of you.

If you'd live from year to year,
Standing of no man in fear,
Free to speak, and free to act,
Make with none a secret pact.
Choose, when trial comes to you,
What you know is right to do.

Cain is loss when basely won;
Wrong is never cheaply done.
Who to cunning has been swayed
Lives of every foe afraid.
Knowledge of his moments weak
Robs him of the power to speak.

Dread him shackled to the last.
Hostage unto shame he stands,
Silenced tongue and fettered hands.
To attack the wrongs they see
Only honest men are free.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Tuesday, June 25, 1907

Marriage licenses were issued the previous day to Jay D. Bushey and Marie F. Garvey,
both of Appleton; M. J. Johnson and Josephine Pungel, both of Appleton; William H. Roehrig, Mondovi, and Lena Wiedmann, Appleton.

Miss Helen Sherry was to leave the following Thursday evening for Port Arthur and Winnipeg, Canada, where she was to spend the summer with friends and relatives.

A. Kornely and William Kamps left that morning for Mount Calvary to attend the fiftieth anniversary of St. Lawrence college.

Miss Marguerite Johnson had returned from Oshkosh where she had been spending the past week with friends.

Miss Jessie Irving left the previous night for Bellingham, Wash., where she was to remain
a short time before continuing her western journey which was to include Los Angeles, San Francisco, Spokane, and Seattle.

Miss May Kanouse returned the previous day
from Milwaukee where she had been spending
the past week as the guest of Miss Mabel Pratt.

TEN YEARS AGO

Tuesday, June 20, 1922

Henry Ford's offer to purchase and lease the government's power and nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was attacked that day in a report to the house prepared by Representative Kearns, Republican, Ohio, and signed by several other Republican members of the house

July 1, 1923 but seventeen counties within four states were reported as
tuberculosis-free. Now the records show
that 1,422 counties, or 46.3 per cent of the
total number in the country, are practically free of this disease. Of equal
interest is the fact that all of the counties in each of seven states come within
this classification. These states are Maine,
North Carolina, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan,
Wisconsin and Idaho. Three other states,
North Dakota, Nevada and Utah, are al-
most tuberculosis-free and expect to reach
the past week as the guest of Miss Mabel Pratt.

These results have been possible only
through favorable public opinion and the
laudable cooperation of farmers and herd
owners with state and national authorities. Instances of resistance to this
forward step have been few and isolated,
the most notable being the rebellion
among Iowa farmers against the provisions of that state's tuberculin-test law.

While the report shows there still re-
main large areas where the disease is a
menace to public health, these districts
will rapidly be brought under control,
if the present rate of progress is maintained.

Miss Lillian Dempsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dempsey, Bear Creek, and Vincent
T. Niles, son of John Niles, Appleton, took place on June 10th at the Catholic Episcopal church at Oconomowoc.

Miss Mata Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt, 977 Gilmore St. and A.
Janke were married the previous Saturday in Milwaukee.

Marriage licenses were issued the preceding
two days to Floyd N. McGillan, Appleton,
and Miss Jane Treiber, Appleton; John E. Severance, Appleton, and Miss Mary Miller, Viroqua.

Miss Margaret Miskimmon had returned from Milwaukee.

$3,145,000 for New Buildings In Wagner Bill

Measure Provides for New Postoffices at Kau-
kauna, New London

By RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—The Senate public works bill introduced by Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York as a substitute for the Garner-Rainey bill passed by the House of Representatives, would authorize immediate construction of $3,145,000 worth of federal buildings in Wisconsin, in addition to providing funds for highways, rivers and harbors, and other works.

The $100,000,000 for post offices provided in the Wagner bill has already been allocated by the inter-departmental public buildings committee but appropriations have not been provided. More than $150,000,000 in public buildings remains allocated but not appropriated in the authorized $500,000,000 federal building program, but with reduced buildings cost the estimates for the individual projects might be so reduced that, with funds now in the treasury, the entire program might be completed under the Wagner bill.

Badger Projects
The Wisconsin projects, with the estimates made in 1931, which would be built under the Wagner bill are:

Berlin, Cudahy, Elkhorn, Hartford, Keweenaw, Lake Geneva, Shawano, Stoughton, Sturgeon Bay, $80,000 each;

Green Bay, $550,000;

Waukesha, $245,000;

Fond du Lac, $270,000;

Portage, $100,000;

West Bend, $105,000;

Oconomowoc, $90,000;

Clintonville, Plymouth, Port Washington, and Rice Lake, $85,000.

Edgerton, Jefferson, Kaukauna, Ladysmith, New London, Richland Center, and Waupaca, $75,000 each;

Reedsburg and Whitewater, $70,000 each;

Eau Claire extension, $80,000;

Chippewa Falls extension, $10,000.

All these and many more were provided in the Garner-Rainey bill as passed by the house, but it now seems that this measure will not become law in this congress. The Wagner program, somewhat altered, may become law, although President Hoover opposes a bond issue for any self-liquidating and revenue-producing works. Nevertheless, the treasury and post office departments have said these projects are needed, they are authorized by law, and a compromise including them might be adopted.

Those provided in the house Democratic program which will certainly not be authorized include: $50,000 post office at Algoma, Barron, Black River Falls; Bloomer, Boscobel, Chilton, Columbus, Cornell, Cumberland, Darlington, De Pere, Dodgeville, Durand, Evansville, Horicon, Hudson, Kohler, Lake Mills, Lancaster, Mauston, Mayville, Medford, Neillsville, New Richmond, Park Falls, Phillips, Prairie du Chien, River Falls, Sheboygan Falls, Spooner, Stanley, Tomahawk, Viroqua, Washburn, and West De Pere; and $85,000 post offices at Broadhead, Cedarburg, Crandon, Elroy, Hurley, Kiel, Mondovi, Ontonagon, Peshtigo and St. Francis.

The Wagner bill provides only $30,000,000 for rivers and harbors while the Garner bill provided for including every approved project, completing $350,000 for Green Bay harbor, $27,000 for Two Rivers harbor, $40,000 for the Fox river, $40,000 for Ashland harbor and $725,000 for Port Washington harbor, as well as more than six millions for the Upper Mississippi river.

Various other Wisconsin construction might be included under the Wagner bill, but it is not spe-

Jean Harlow and Film Maker to be Married

Los Angeles (AP)—Jean Harlow, the screen's platinum blonde, is to be a bride again.

The 21-year-old actress has announced her engagement to Paul Bern, film producer, and said today the wedding will be Friday or Saturday.

The first indication the film colony had of the approaching wedding yesterday when the couple appeared at the marriage license bureau to obtain a license.

"We were surprised ourselves," said Miss Harlow. "Mr. Bern did not make the proposal until Sunday and I accepted. We had casually spoken of marriage before, but not until Sunday was the subject seriously gone into when we decided to get a license."

The wedding will be informal, with only a few relatives and friends as witnesses. Miss Harlow said. It will be the first marriage for Bern, who gave his age as 42. Miss Harlow, whose real name is Harlean Carpenter McGrew, was formerly married to Charles F. McGrew, 2nd, of Chicago.

Take Leaf From Vamp's Book to Hold Husband

Wives Who Keep Chasing Their Husbands Seldom Lose Them

BY DOROTHY DIX
EAR Miss Dix—Wives are always complaining that their husbands are poor performers in sentimental roles. They may be as far as their wives are concerned, but what do their strong, riper and other attractive women think of them?

When he is thrown in contact with an attractive woman, not necessarily a young one, the average husband is quick to take advantage of the situation if they are alone. Why is this? How come? Why is a man who is content to furnish his wife with strings of pearls and Paris frocks, but seldom shows her a sign of affection, so anxious to put his arm around other women and start in where Clark Gable leaves off in the movies? There must be a reason.

Of course, stenographers must as part of their job always LOOK attractive. They quickly learn to SMILE when the boss is irritable. And SYMPATHIZE with him. When he visits a night club, the hostess gives him a WARM welcome and shows that she APPRECIATES his coming. Also, she hands out an agreeable line of chatter. Now the wife has everything in the way of charm that the vamp has, but Friend Husband doesn't know it. How would it be if some of your neglected wives woke up and pulled themselves together and took a few leaves out of the husband-snatchers' book?

ONE WHO KNOWS.

Answer: I think it would be great stuff and it is a recommendation that I have frequently made in this column. For when a wife loses her husband to another woman, it is nearly always because she was too lazy or stupid to keep the goods in her show window looking attractive and desirable, or she doesn't know how to sell herself to her husband.

The woman who loses her husband always claims, as her alibi, that the OTHER WOMAN was much younger than she, or of surpassing beauty, or else a siren who threw a spell about him that no man could resist. But this is not the case very often. Generally when we see the vamp who has broken up the home of one of our lady friends, we are amazed to discover that there is nothing about her, so far as her personal appearance goes, to explain any man's infatuation, or why any man would jump the bars and go through the mess of a scandal for her.

Very often the Lady Love is old and not so good-looking or attractive, and the question becomes, "Why did the man prefer her to his lawful wife?" Wives prefer to find this a great mystery, but, in reality, there is not one of them so dull that she cannot solve it.

For every woman knows the things that attract men, or else they would never get married in the first place and they also know that they only have to go on practicing what they know to hold their husbands.

For the vamps' book there are no secrets. A man's eye is always caught by an attractive-looking woman. She need not be beautiful, but she must be neat and well groomed. And he likes a jolly woman who smiles and laughs and is easy to get along with. And he likes to be interested and amused. And he likes for a woman to flatter him and tell him how handsome and big and strong and wise he is, and it is because the office wife makes herself more agreeable and easier on the eyes than the home wife that she gets more kisses and those of a warmer temperature.

And a man hates to be nagged and told about his faults and his shortcomings, and he is bored by a wife who is peevish and fretful, and he doesn't get any kick out of going out with a wife who doesn't play up to him and make love to him and make him feel as if he were a sheik, and that is why so many husbands wander away from home and get lost, strayed or stolen.

If a wife was always trying to catch her husband, she would never lose him.

DOROTHY DIX.

EAR MISS DIX—if a boy loves a girl, could she be the cause of his wanting to quit high school and go to work so that he could marry. That's my fix. The girl tells me not to take her seriously at present and to continue my schooling, but although I am a youngster I have marriage in mind. I think about her continually. I can't concentrate on my work and am not the student I used to be and I want to quit school and go to work so that I can get married. Am I right or wrong?

WORRIED KID.

A girl can do anything to a boy, son. She can twist him around her finger and reverse his every idea and change his every hope and plan. She can make him or mar him. And you are lucky that you have fallen in love with a girl who seems to be of the right sort and who has more sense and judgment than you have.

Take her advice and go on with your education. You will regret it if you don't because knowledge is a tool with which you will have to carve out your future, and the

Tasty Concoctions May Be Made From Fruit Juice

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

Hot days make us think of refreshing drinks for summer afternoons and evenings. The tinkling of ice against glass has a cooling effect that we all welcome as the thermometer mounts.

More than this, any drink made with fruit has a definite place in the diet. We all realize the importance of eating fruit for its mineral content and vitamins and we should not forget those necessary six glasses of water a day. In a fruit punch, we find these essentials combined in a pleasing fashion.

Scientists tell us that "water has the property of absorbing more heat and being less effected by that heat than any other substances. It will absorb the heat from your body, and in passing off in the form of perspiration the evaporation cools you; hence there is a good reason for sipping a cooling beverage not only in the immediate cooling effect but in the ultimate effect."

It is also interesting to know that ginger ale and innumerable other bottled beverages made with "charged" or "carbonated" water are healthful drinks, according to the Chemical Research of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These beverages are of some food value due to the sugar used in their making, while the fruit juices, acids and extracts and other flavors from aromatic herbs and roots as well as the carbon dioxide gas present act as a tonic and mild stimulant.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Watermelon cones, French omelet, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Tongue and celery salad, whole wheat bread and butter sandwiches, blackberry shortcake with cream.

DINNER: Planked salmon with potato marbles and spinach timbales, salad of tomato stuffed with cabbage and green pepper, cantaloupe sherbet, macaroni, milk, coffee.

better and the stronger that is the more fitted you will be to do something worth while, and the more you have to give to the woman you love.

If you stop school before you are through high, you will seriously handicap yourself because the very first question any employer will ask you is how much schooling you have and whether you graduated from high school or not. And you know, without my telling you, that unless you have a certain amount of education, you will always have to take poor jobs.

Your little sweetheart is wise in telling you not to take your boy-and-girl-love affair seriously. You are too young to decide such an important question as picking out your lifemate, or to assume the responsibilities of marriage. Let that wait until you are man grown and in a position to take care of a family, and just play around now for a while and let romance wait. And if you really love the girl and want to get married, study hard and make something of yourself.

DOROTHY DIX.

EAR MISS DIX—We are four working girls, good enough looking, and have a good many friends. But we want to ask you what you think of the boys who come to our homes, eat our refreshments and listen to our radios and never offer to take us out even to the movies or put themselves out to entertain us in return. We are not gold-diggers, but we think that boys who care enough to spend their time with us could spend something besides time once in a while, and we are fed up with men who have the "I'm-here-what-more-could-you-want" attitude. What do you say?

FOUR GIRLS.

Answer: I think they are just social dead-beats and the sooner you give them the air, the better. There are a lot of boys who graff on girls. They eat a girl's food. They camp on her chairs. They use a girl's car and let her father buy the gasoline. They let her buy the theatre tickets. And they never make the slightest return. Often they will not even ask for a cut-in at a dance that some other girl's mother has given.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON

The little Portuguese skipper of the fishing boat was terrified by the storm that had come up, so he ran into the ship's chapel to pray to the holy images there. But someone had taken the images out to clean them, the last time the ship was in port, and the poor skipper had nothing left to pray to.

In desperation, he dashed into a stateroom and knelt and prayed frantically to the first picture he saw, and it just happened that this was a big campaign photograph of Al Smith which some politically-minded seaman had tacked to a bulkhead.

Still, it worked. At any rate, the ship rode out of the storm.

This is just a sample of the sort of yarn that makes "I Cover the Waterfront," by Max Miller (Dutton, $2.50), one of the most entertaining books of the year.

Mr. Miller is waterfront reporter for the San Diego Sun, and in this book he has written down the things he saw and thought during a tour of duty there. Since he had a good mind with which to think, his book is well worth reading.

He tells you, among other things, of Lindbergh before he got famous thanking reporters for getting his name in the papers; of a baby seal that came up on a moonlit beach to sleep with him (Miller, not Lindy).

to make them too sweet. A sugar syrup is better than plain sugar for sweetening. The flavor of the finished drink is more bland and smooth. However, it should be remembered that the syrup acts also as a dilutent as well as a sweetener and must be considered when water is added.

Ginger ale adds sparkle and pep to a fruit punch. Carbonated water gives a tang, while tea distinctly changes the flavor. These all give character to a mild punch whereas plain water merely lessens the fruity taste and increases the quantity.

If your refrigerator is stocked with a bottle of sugar syrup, fruit syrup and ginger ale you can make a delicious zestful drink on a minute's notice.

Don't hesitate to combine fruit juices. The excess juice left from canning small fruits can always be used to advantage in summer drinks.

Lemon or lime juice give a pleasant tartness to all fruit punches and should always be added if at all possible.

Raspberry Shrub
Six quarts raspberries, 1 quart granulated sugar.

Wash and pick over fruit. Put berries and vinegar into a stone jar and let stand for thirty-six hours.

Keep covered with a cloth. Strain through a jelly bag and measure the juice. Use cup for cup of sugar and juice. Put into preserving kettle and boil ten minutes. Pour into sterilized bottles and seal. Dilute with the water to serve.

Fruit Punch
One cup orange juice, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 1-2 cup grape fruit juice, 1 cup ginger ale, 1-3 cup sugar syrup, 1 cup water.

Combine ingredients and chill. Add ice and serve.

The choice of fruit juices and the amount of water and sugar used can, of course, be varied in innumerable ways.

Slices of peaches, sections of oranges and slices of lemons and bananas can be added to the punch. Small fruits and berries and sprigs of mint are also pleasing garnishes.

Most fruit drinks must be made to "taste" but there are certain precautions and suggestions worth keeping in mind.

When you are making drinks for summer refreshment, take care not to its weaknesses and appetites. It will love show and display, and will seek first-class passage through life.

It is difficult to place a finger on your dominant characteristics, if you were born on June 22nd. Your moods are too changeable for you to be a "certain" person. You live entirely in your feelings, which range from sentimentalism to the highest and purest of emotions. You are psychic enough to easily feel the impressions around you, and often feel silently hurt or wounded. You are fanciful, romantic, and probably superstitious.

You have a pronounced economic streak, and are very fond of saving, a trait which runs into almost all the details of life. You hate to throw anything away for fear it may prove of use at some later date. Letters, mementoes and other reminders of days gone by are cherished by you, along with your romantic memories.

You are very fond of anything which is antique, and you enjoy nosing around old shops.

Your clannish loyalty to your family may act as a brake on your individual progress. You feel keenly everything that affects any member of your blood relations, and you will not listen to a word against them. When ailing, you become morbidly nervous, and your own mental state aggravates the real trouble. Your stomach is the sensitive part of your system, and worry and anxiety bring on indigestion.

It's fine stuff, really—tolerant, witty and thoughtful. I believe and hope that we're going to hear more of this writer. He's got something.

PARIS OPERA BEAUTIFIED

Paris' famous opera is being improved and beautified. The attractive facade is now hidden by a scaffolding for men who are replacing the steelwork which supports the copper cupola, the steel having been eaten by rust. The statuary is to be cleaned and covered with a thin oily substance on which water has no effect. Four elevators are to be installed, and the hydrants which are considered inadequate in case of fire, are to be replaced.

Dry Law Plank To Have Effect At Washington

Republicans to Propose Constitutional Amendments in Congress

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Republican members of congress are planning to introduce at once proposed constitutional amendments to carry out the purposes of the Republican prohibition plank adopted by the national convention at Chicago.

While of course no action is contemplated at this session since it will adjourn before the end of the present week, the move is expected to show clearly the determination of the Republicans to suit their action to the word.

The step is being urged by those who feel that a platform plank with the usual excess verbiage does not read as a proposed amendment would. It is desired to express first the idea of repeal and second the substitute which would go into effect immediately upon the acceptance of the whole resolution by two-thirds of the congress and three-fourths of the states.

All sides are agreed that the ratification shall be by state conventions delegates to which shall be elected at elections separate and distinct from any other elections. Provision for such elections will have to be made by state laws and this of course means that state legislatures will have to meet and pass upon the question of how delegates to the state conventions shall be apportioned and elected.

Delay Almost Certain

Under ordinary circumstances the legislatures of about forty states meet in January, 1933, and most of them do not meet again until January, 1935, so that unless special sessions are called it is doubtful whether the proposed substitute amendment or the repeal of the eighteenth amendment alone could possibly be acted upon until January, 1935. Even if special sessions should be called it would become necessary for every state to pass legislation arranging for the state conventions. Thirteen state legislatures desiring to block the passage of the new amendment could simply delay action on laws to bring about state conventions.

Already there is talk of how such a situation would be met and some Republican leaders said that congress could force dry states to act by passing appropriation bills for prohibition law enforcement containing provisions declaring that no part of such funds shall be used to enforce the law in states that have not passed laws to bring into effect machinery for the calling of state conventions.

lay action and this is one of the reasons why the wet Democrats are getting ready to put into their plan a proposal that congress shall act—which is possible by simple majority vote—and thus permit a higher alcohol content in beverages and legalize the sale of light wines and beer. The Democrats would then go to the country in the coming campaign and argue that the Republican plank takes too long to get rid of prohibition and that the Democratic plank proposes a remedy that can take effect next December if congress is so inclined and certainly in the next congress, which is to be elected in the autumn of this year and could be called into special session in the autumn of 1933 by the newly elected president.

Garsaud Hit by Senator Long as Power Trust Man

Louisianian Calls Original Appointment "Crime" Against Country

Washington—(AP)—Opening a fight against the reappointment of Marcel Garsaud to the power commission, Senator Long (D., La.), told the senate Monday "there never was a greater crime against the men, women and children of this country than when that man was put on the power commission."

Long referred to Garsaud, a Louisianian, as "a thimble-rigging thumbscrew appointee of the most dubious interests in that part of the country."

"Every job he ever had," said Long "was a result of this power trust."

He said he would "whole lot rather go to Harvey Couch, an Arkansas public utilities official, to secure a ruling against the power companies than to Marcel Garsaud" and would "sooner take the chances of the people of the United States with Andrew W. Mellon than with Garsaud."

He asserted the "only certificate of good character for an appointment by Herbert Hoover from the state of Louisiana is that the appointee must have been publicly rebuked by the people of that state."

Returning to the senate today, Long earlier had struck back at criticism directed at him last week by Senator Reed (R., Pa.) for being absent.

The Louisiana senator said he had been away on business of his state and contended Reed's remarks were a case of "the pot calling the kettle black." He added: "I think the senator from Pennsylvania has even been absent in attending to his law business."

Long said his friends in Louisiana and the governor of the state had asked him to aid in passage of legislation intended to "take care of some 265,000 school children" and combat the effects of the "Hoover depression."

Charge by Reed

Reed had charged recently that the absence of Long was delaying the senate's business. His remark grew out of an objection to considering the nomination of a Louisianian on the ground that Long was not present.

Asserting that he was "liberal" on the subject of a senator mend- ing home political fences, Long added: "all of us have to go back home or're in a while and attend to political matters."

"I'm not so fortunate as the senator from Pennsylvania," he added. "I'm here in my own right as a United States senator. I haven't got a Vare or a Mellon in Louisiana to help me come to the senate. I've got to get votes in my own right."

Long then addressed Senator Fess (R., Ohio) in the chair explaining he did not want to transcend senate rules concerning remarks about another senator and continued:

"I don't want to offend the senator from Pennsylvania."

Reed who had sat smiling, promptly retorted, "the senator couldn't."

"The senator from Pennsylvania has a peculiar position," Long added. "He has the administration to defend, which is obnoxious in every part of this country."

HEIGHT OF PALMS

Palm trees in the tropics, under ideal conditions, often attain a height of nearly 160 feet. This is an exceptional size, as even a tree 100 feet tall is regarded as an extreme.

A Japanese legend has it that music was devised by the gods to lure the sun-goddess from a cave where she had retired.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Gambler's Throw

by Eustace L. Adams

SYNOPSIS: Detective work by airplane is necessary, Jerry Calhoun and Emory Battles decide, in dealing with an ultra-modern kidnapping gang who have carried off Nancy Wentworth and a number of wealthy men and are demanding "board money" while they hold the captives in some unknown hideaway. Jerry is determined to rescue Nancy, since she was abducted while he was with her, and his plans are approved by Stevens, a government detective assigned to the case. Stevens is especially concerned with locating One-Shot Lucie, a gangster among the kidnapped persons, who are besides Lucie and Nancy — Mallory, a stockbroker, Hamilton, a millionaire businessman, and Martin and Williams of Chicago. No clues have been found as to the whereabouts of the gang and their prisoners. Jerry and Emory try to follow the hydroplane that collects the board money from a stalled rowboat off the coast, but their own plane falls in both speed and fuel. Emory plans to buy an up-to-date airplane.

Enjoying yourself, Nancy?" A sardonic voice came from behind her shoulder. She wheeled, her hand on her breast.

"Are you drunk, again, Mr. Mallory?" she challenged him coldly.

Mallory teetered unsteadily on his feet. His close-clipped red hair was awry, his jade-green eyes bloodshot. His broad shoulders sagged wearily. Lack of exercise and too much drink was taking its toll upon a figure which had, but three weeks ago, been lithe and hard-muscled. Here there were no polo fields with spirited ponies and pretty women, no hand ball courts with showers and experienced rubbers, no golf links with frosted highballs at the nineteenth hole. Of all these, only two were left, the highballs and one pretty woman. So to both he devoted himself assiduously, the drink without restraint, the woman to the limits of her patience. Now he stared openly at Nancy and snarled.

"No, not drunk yet," he said. "Perhaps a little later." His mood changed suddenly. His irritable voice betrayed a man whose nerves were frayed and jangling. "What else would one do to help him forget the passing of time in this hellhole? Hamilton, with his blamed solitaire, Martin, sitting there like a bump on a log until you could smash his face in just to make him speak. Williams, stealing every chance to make calf's eyes at you.

"Luci, the gunman, pacing back and forth like a panther in his cage. And every time we take a walk toward the beach or the hangar two or three guards watch us with their hands in their bulging pockets, hoping that we'll do something that will give a little gun practice. If you weren't here, I'd have run amuck long ago. I will yet, if something doesn't happen to break the monotony."

"That will be very helpful to me." The girl's voice was heavy with sarcasm. "You fill me with admiration for your self-control."

"See here, Nancy," he complained querulously. "It's all your fault. You know I've not been myself. I'm madly in love with you and you treat me like a dog. I've loved you ever since your opening night at the Criterion, two years ago. I've tried, God knows how many times, to meet you. But you never went out on parties, never met people. And now we're together here, I can't think of anything but you."

"You've thought of nothing else," she countered scornfully, "but the heat and the liquor and the chances of escape. Have you given any thought to your wife, lately?"

"My wife? I've had been separated for years!" he declared tempestuously. "I'll have her get a divorce the moment we return to New York."

New York! A million miles away from this madness. It hardly seemed to exist.

"That might be a favor to your wife," she said dreamily, "but please, let's talk of something else."

"Nancy!" His voice was vibrant with intensity. "I can't—you've been witched me! You are—"

In another instant she was in his arms, kicking, hammering with her little fists at his burly chest and shoulders, squirming silently to break his hold. His kisses fell upon her cheek. A guard, strolling along the beach, stopped and watched them in frank, cynical enjoyment.

She was sick and giddy. Then, suddenly, she felt, rather than heard, a sharp, ringing crack. The straining arms sagged as his body relaxed, became limp and settled toward the floor. She was dragged down with him. Strong hands seized her by the shoulders and jerked her back to her feet.

Nancy escapes from one pursuer to find herself facing another, tomorrow.

LOWER PHONE RATES DENIED
Efforts to bring down the high cost of telephoning in Britain have failed, the government which owns and operates the lines, declaring such a move unwise. In view of the relatively small surplus of the telephone account, I regret that a reduction in the charge for rental is at present impracticable," said Sir Kingsley Wood, the postmaster general. "During the last 10 years reductions in telephone rates have totalled in the aggregate over $20,000,000 a year."

Max Schmeling Favored To Retain Heavyweight Boxing Title

German Much Improved Over Two Years Ago

Boston Tar Will Drop Into Oblivion If He Fails To Win

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK—(AP)—For glory and honor and comparatively little cash, Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey clash in a 15-round heavyweight championship bout in Long Island City tonight.

William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden which is promoting the match in the new outdoor arena of Long Island, predicts gross receipts in the neighborhood of $400,000. Even that figure, staggering as it is in these times, seems trifling when viewed from the point of view of the million-dollar "gates" of the Dempsey era.

Plain Mr. Fight fan was not particularly interested in the gross receipts beyond deciding how much he would contribute to them. He

FIGHT FACTS

Principal—Max Schmeling of Germany, champion, and Jack Sharkey of Boston, challenger.

Place—Madison Square Arena, Long Island City.

Time—10 o'clock (E. D. T.)

Distance—15 rounds

Probable weights—Schmeling 190 pounds; Sharkey 202.

Referee and judges—To be announced at ringside.

Semi-final—Charley Reitzaff vs. Hans Birkie, five rounds.

Preliminaries—Jimmy Bradock vs. Vincent Parille, Charley Belanger vs. Jack McCarthy, Jerry Pavelec vs. Lou Barba, all five rounds; Tommy Walsh vs. Maxie Pink, four rounds.

Broadcast—By NBC on national hookup.

viewed the match as a duel of two closely matched gladiators and the betting fraternity supported him in that opinion.

Max Is Favorite

The odds continued at 6 to 5 with Schmeling a favorite although some betting commissioners were quoting 11 to 10 and take your pick. Odds against a knockout by either man were 3 to 1.

Both Schmeling and Sharkey came down from their training camps in upper New York state in excellent condition. Sharkey has been the more impressive during the training grind but the experts pointed out that Schmeling never has looked any too good in a gymnasium. He needs real competition to look his best.

The Teufon has come far since that June night two years ago when Sharkey battered him around for three rounds and then fouled him into the championship in the fourth. Then he was a green, game youngster, a powerful puncher with his right hand and possessed of all the stamina in the world.

Now he is a champion in fact as well as name, a punishing hitter with either hand, a much more elusive target than he used to be, and still gifted with amazing endurance. He stunned some of the experts with his masterly performance against Young Stribling last year in his first title defense, cutting down the rugged Georgian in the fifteenth and final round.

But if Schmeling is spurred on not so much by a desire to retain his title as to achieve vindication for his somewhat inglorious victory in 1930, there is desperation behind Sharkey's challenge.

Jack Can't Lose

The Boston tar simply can't afford to lose. He is getting only 10 per cent of the receipts, hardly enough to pay for his training expenses, but he wants the title. This time he may be his last chance. Time after time has been knocking at the door to the heavyweight throne room only to find it closed to him through his own erratic performances. Lack of control cost him several important matches and indifference several others.

Although the bowl will seat 7,272 persons, not more than 55,000 or 60,000 are expected tonight. There may not be that many even though there are more than 40,000 seats at $2 to $5 plus tax. Top price for choice ringside positions is $22.

The referee and the two judges were to be named this afternoon, but their identities were not to be revealed until ring time.

The title bout, scheduled for 10 o'clock, was to be preceded by one four-round preliminary and four five-rounders.

The New York American's milk fund was to share in the net profits to the extent of 25 per cent with a guarantee of $10,000.

Appleton Juniors Will Play New London Club

Appleton Juniors, sponsored by Oney Johnston post of the American Legion, will invade New London Thursday afternoon for a game scheduled at 4 o'clock. The Appleton youngsters have won eight practice games this spring and are just about ready for the regular season which opens June 29. Members of the team are to call H. W. Miller or Floyd Kessler about transportation.

BLACK CREEK BEATEN

Black Creek—The hard hitting Cecil team with the pitching of Gottschall, trimmed Black Creek, 13 and 5, at Cecil Sunday. The game featured a home run by Raymond Rohloff of Black Creek, the ball landing in Shawano lake.

The game was uninteresting because of the bad fielding of both

New York—(P)—The stock market finally broke the stalemate of the past two sessions with a pronounced slump in the late trading today. While trading was even duller than yesterday during the morning, it quickened in the afternoon selling, and the turnover approximated 550,000 shares. Losses of 1 to 2 points were numerous.

A handful of stocks were bid up a little in the first hour, but these gains were soon lost, and a slightly heavy tone developed after omission of American Smelting's preferred dividends. Bonds maintained a good undertone, but this market has not developed sufficient strength to help shares.

At the start, a few issues such as American Telephone, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, and Atch. Reduction rose about a point and U. S. Steel pushed up 1; but these advances were about lost. Telephone actually sold somewhat under yesterday's close. American Smelting common lost a point, as did Western Union, and the bulk of the line was virtually unchanged.

The cessation of important liquidation during the past fortnight has led some market theorists to believe that the March-April-May cycle of liquidation, the seventh of the bear market, has been completed, and that a rally cancelling roughly half of that loss should be in order, but market theory has left traders rather cool, in view of the number of unusual conditions prevailing, and the likelihood that prices may not follow a conventional pattern.

The Lausanne conference and the Democratic convention are probably attracting more attention in financial quarters than anything else at present. What effect either may have upon the markets, however, remains problematical. Some observers anticipate little from the war debt conferences until after the German elections July 31. The action of the silver market has been reflected skepticism over the prospects of results in the near future from the agitation to restore the value of that metal. The weekly freight car loadings figures, showing an increase of roughly 54,000 cars over the Memorial day weeks, in which loadings declined about 73,000 were somewhat disappointing.

Hog Market Has Conservative Tone

Contrasts With Recent Runaway Attitudes; Lambs Make Appeal

400 Per Cent Increase in Taxes on Future Deliveries Blamed

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago—(P)—Initial trade in the local hog market had a conservative and temperate tone as contrasted with the runaway market of the previous day. Even continued light supplies and improved prices in the wholesale dressed markets failed to draw buyers into the trade at better than steady prices. Packers reported only 1,000 hogs on direct billings and were expected to fill their requirements in competition with outside buyers who have been active operators for the last week.

Offerings of 15,000 were in line with the advance estimate, but the 4,000 state hogs which supplemented the fresh supply provided about all the swine the trade could absorb at current values. While choice light butchers were held at $4.10 and above, first bids did not pass $4.00 on the 180 to 220 lb. selections though heavy butchers at $3.85-$3.90 were fully steady.

Moderate receipts of cattle as viewed from all angles met with no spontaneous response in the local bovine mart. Holders entertained no apprehensions regarding prices of well-finished beefs, but they were unable to entice the major operators to take hold early. Stronger prices were demanded. Packed had no directs.

Lambs of choice quality again made a strong appeal to packers, and in view of the fact that some shipping demand has sprung up for the new crop of Northwest range lambs, better prices seemed justified. However, packing interests received 4,500 lambs on through consignment and did not open market buying within the first hour.
